Known circumstances

Liability in respect of claims, facts, circumstances and/or damage from which a claim may arise which are or should have been known to the policyholder at the time that the policyholder requests that the insurance cover commence or be amended, is not insured to the extent that the insurer, if it had been aware of these claims, facts, circumstances and/or damage, would not have agreed to the insurance policy or to the changes being included, in whole or in part, or would have agreed to the insurance policy under other conditions. Where necessary the above is in deviation from the standard terms and conditions or supplementary insurance terms and conditions that apply or are to be applied to the insurance agreement.
